Hope Haven ceremony celebrates effort to prevent child abuse

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

Hope Haven Children's Advocacy Center on Friday hosted a "Placing of the Pinwheels" ceremony in front of the historic Hancock County Courthouse to raise awareness of the continued fight to prevent child abuse.

"Here in Hancock County, we investigated nearly 20 (child abuse) cases last year," Sheriff Ricky Adam said during the ceremony. "Unlike in many other communities in Mississippi, we have Hope Haven, we have (Child Protective Services), we have CASA."

Adam said Hope Haven is a powerful partner in the fight to prevent child abuse in Hancock County, but also to work with law enforcement to make sure justice prevails.

"It's a great feeling to know you have people that care about and for our children. ... It's nice to know they protect the people who need it ... and help make sure the abusers go to jail."

Kimberly Thomas, Hope Haven's Multidisciplinary Team Facilitator, said the "Placing of the Pinwheels" is a collaborative effort to bring attention to the public by all those who combat child abuse daily. Pinwheels are the national symbol used around the country to bring awareness to this event and are being placed throughout Mississippi.

Hope Haven is one of only 12 Children's Advocacy Centers in the state, Thomas said, and is fully accredited by the National Children's Alliance.

Hope Haven works closely with the district attorney, law enforcement agencies, Mississippi Child Protective Services, and other critical local organizations in the coordination of investigations of cases of child sexual abuse and felony child physical abuse cases through the county Multidisciplinary Teams (MDT) of Hancock and Pearl River counties.

Specially trained staff at Hope Haven conduct forensic interviews of children ages 3-17 in a child friendly environment. These interviews are critical for the DA, CPS and Law Enforcement to determine if a child has been abused. The interviews are also critical in the successful prosecution of people who harm children.

Mark Your Calendar for ArtsAlive! festival

BY GWEN IMPSON

It's funny how many locals are unaware of a fantastic art event that draws people to Bay St Louis from as far away as New Orleans and Mobile. Mark your calendar for ArtsAlive! It's a one day event on Saturday, April 15 from 10:00am to 5:00pm with free admission and free parking. The newly renovated Historic Train Depot Park, with its magnificent live oak trees, is the perfect setting for laid back, fun outside events. First stop, head to one of the two the Information Booths. A program steers you to the multiple stages, food trucks, vendors and art happenings. Also gives you an hour by hour schedule of what is going on where. Outdoor activities are spread around the Depot Arts District grounds. These include the Artists and Artisans Trail which is an opportunity for artists and artisans to show and sell their artwork. Multiple stages provide music and theater performances. Inside activities are held in the adjoining Community Center at 301 Blaize Avenue. The Student Art Exhibit showcases the talent of up and coming local artists. MakerSpace includes dozens of artists demonstrating their art and crafts. Here you'll see artists share their techniques and explain their creative processes. Information on classes is readily available. A popular event is the Culinary Desert Competition, also inside the Community Center. It is a lot of fun and cash prizes are given for first, second and third places. ArtsAlive! continues to grow in both artists' participation and attendance. Come be a part of the fun as a volunteer or attendee! Flag Retirement Program

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home works with local residents and the veterans services organizations to properly retire any U.S. flag that has reached the end of its service. Our program is designed to honor our national heroes, our military veterans, and to give dignity to our American Flag when it is no longer worthy of display. We strive to see that each veteran being cremated has a flag. There is no charge for this service to our veterans.

According to the United States code, Title 4, Chapter 1, Subsection 8: "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

If you would like to honor a deceased veteran by donating an aged or worn flag to be properly disposed of, you may do so by delivering the flags to our funeral home located on the corner of Necaise Avenue and Main Street.

"We pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Hancock History: Gone Fishin’

The most joyful thing in my life is being an aunt. A couple of weeks ago, the nephew called me for an interview. One of his homework assignments was to interview an adult. Yes, I was surprised when he classified me as an adult, as well.

Of course, I cried when I heard him ask me. I didn’t have the questions beforehand, so it took me a little while to answer his questions.

Later on, he complained to his Maw Maw and probably anyone else who would listen that I “took too long to answer.”

He has also informed his family that he is no longer a “little kid.” I didn’t know whether to laugh or cry when little Mr. 8-going-on-21 told me that.

Recently, he also started deciding how he wants his hair cut. And it is truly an adorable haircut and he styles it with some gel. (Yes, I will also get in trouble for calling it adorable, but I’m not worried.)

My nephew is an outstanding person. His love for reading continues to grow and he continues to excel well in school, both academically and socially.

This week, at his school in Alaska, he was awarded the Character Award for his portrayal of the character trait “integrity.”

According to his award, he is “honest, positive, and can be trusted with any task. He always strives to do the right thing and sets a great example for his peers of what following the classroom values and expectations looks like.”

I was bursting with pride when I heard the news and I’m so glad that his teachers and others recognize what I’ve known all along.

My sister sent a video of his award ceremony and his classmates cheered him on when his name was called, which of course, made me cry and smile real big.

However, it’s moments like these that some children and parents won’t get to experience. For instance, the children who were gunned down in Nashville last week. And I wish I could say it was an isolated incident.

According to the Washington Post, there have been 377 school shootings since Columbine in 1999.

The three children who died at The Covenant School in Nashville were nine years old. My nephew will be nine this year.

And looking at the faces of those little ones, I can’t help but think about my own nephew’s safety.

Because, you know what takes some integrity, is ensuring that the children of this country can attend school without the fear of being murdered.

I just can’t fathom how people can continue to hear about little kids being gunned down and not get Bay St. Louis has been a fishing village for two hundred years. Ansley and Lakeshore are also historic harbors renowned for recreational and commercial fishing. Fishing for finfish, shrimp, oysters, and crabs is an integral part of the cultural heritage of Hancock County. However, there has been a change this sector of the economy noticed by all the “old timers” in our coastal neighborhoods.

During the 1950’s, many fathers and their children would go to a boat livery to rent a wooden skiff to go fishing. Such outlets such as Poss LaFrance’s Marina in Ansley, the Bordages Brothers Marina in Bayou Caddy, or a cluster of liveries on Lake Catherine were busy from April to November. There were some power boats to be sure, but these power boats did not dominate the fishing grounds, as they do today. The water was not polluted then, and the fishing was spectacular in the bayous, lakes, rivers, and shallow estuaries of our coastal marshes.

The history of the charter boat industry over the last seventy years reflects the evolution of one aspect of recreational fishing. A report entitled “Charter Boat Fishing on the Mississippi Gulf Coast” was compiled by David Etzold et al in 1977. It was supported by the State of Mississippi and the University of Southern Mississippi. At that time there were forty charter boats on the Mississippi Gulf Coast with fishing guide experienced captains. Customers were typically from the state of Mississippi, but were usually not Gulf Coast residents. There were many customers from the entire Mississippi River Valley as far north as Illinois. The charter boats at that time offered all day trips, mainly trolling, and likely catches included bonito, Spanish and king mackerel, crevalle jack, specks, bull reds, and sharks. In 1977, an average fisherman spent $120/day, which included charter fee ($30), lodging, food and drink, and transportation. The average number of guest fishermen was five. Approximately forty charter boats were available in Gulfport, Biloxi, and Ocean Springs. No charter business was recorded in Hancock County or the Pass at that time.

Today, there are approximately twenty-five charter boat outfitters in Pass Christian and Hancock County. There are approximately forty charter businesses along the rest of the Mississippi Gulf Coast. For example, Josh Ellis owns and operates “Old Bay Outfitters (OBO).” Josh has been a life-long resident of the coast with

Spring Forward in Savings

Spring has bloomed here in Mississippi. The temperature has warmed. Buds have exploded into blossoms. And pollen... Well, the pollen has seemingly caked every outdoor surface. With the changes occurring outside our windows comes a changing of seasons within many of our homes, as our children prepare to advance a grade or even leave the nest altogether. How have you prepared for the next season?

Today, around 58 percent of students graduate with student loan debt. Here in Mississippi, that debt averages out at more than $30,000 by the end of a four-year degree program. The financial liability can take years to pay off, delaying major life milestones like getting married, buying a home, or starting a family.

Moreover, those graduating today are walking into a difficult financial climate. Inflation is raging. The basic expenses of what is required to work – a cell phone, a car (used or otherwise), gas to put in that car, groceries to fuel your mind and body, a roof over your head, electricity and water, and maybe even a home internet connection – have skyrocketed. As a result, newly educated workers have almost no financial breathing room, making it difficult to pay off anything but the minimum amount of their student loans.

Fortunately, Mississippi has made it a priority to help families lessen our kids’ student loan debt burden. College Savings Mississippi, which is administered by my team at the State Treasury, helps families from all walks of life save for college.

Our Mississippi Affordable College Savings (MACS) accounts, for example, can be opened with a deposit of just $25. Keep contributing and watch those savings grow – with interest! One of the things I love about these accounts is how flexible they are. They can be used on tuition, as well as elementary and secondary private school tuition, apprenticeships, tech programs, room and board, books, and so much more.

Meanwhile, our Mississippi Prepaid Affordable College Tuition (MPACT) program allows families to lock in today’s tuition rates, protect their child from tuition inflation, and finish paying for college before their son or daughter has their high school diploma. Of course, it’s not just parents who invest in these plans. We have a significant number of grandparents who have purchased MPACT plans as part of their estate planning.

As the weather changes, I urge you to think beyond summer break. Are you prepared for the next season in your child’s life? To get help planning and explore more options, please contact my College Savings Mississippi team at (601) 359-5255 or visit angry or want to see some precautions put in place that might prevent it. But then, I read people’s love letters to their guns and money and I realize their priorities are in different places.

Oh, some will scream about mental health problems as the cause, but when it comes to something like red flag laws or actual social programs that would help those who suffer, then they don’t want to do anything about that, either.
Some have been shocked when they find out that, I, as a girl from Mississippi have never fired a firearm.
First off, I hate being stereotyped; and second, it’s just never been on my bucket list.
And I can see how there is a need for hunting weapons and such. Also, I can understand the argument for self-defense.
But, I don’t see the need for easy access to weapons that can take out multiple people in minutes.
And I don’t think that children should attend school in buildings that are likened to prisons.
Having never had to participate in an active-shooter drill during my school years, I can’t imagine what that must be like for these kids. I think it’s horrible addition, to these fishing excursions, “Shore Thing” has a lodge on Cat Island for groups of at least nine fishermen. Captain Kenny Shiyou is reputed to be the premiere guide in the industry, who worked as a commercial fisherman and shrimper for over twenty-five years before joining the “Shore Thing” operation. A charter fee may cost about $600 for four people for four hours. Fortunately, for our fishermen visitors, there are twenty-three other good charter outfitters in Hancock County and Pass Christian to accommodate the high demand for this outdoor sport.

The charter fishing sector of our coastal economy has grown over the forty-four years from 36 to 60 businesses on the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast. Where there were no significant outfitters in the Pass or the Baie in 1977; in contrast, there are approximately 25 currently. The charter boats nowadays have outboard motors with greater horsepower, GPS, sonar fish finders, and other IT amenities. However, the waters in the Mississippi Sound are more polluted with less fish, shrimp, or oyster beds. The fishermen customers spend money in Hancock County at restaurants, gas stations, taverns, hotels, and casinos. The service sector of the Hancock County economy has morphed over the last one hundred years, and our coast community is now a well-established beach resort destination. There are so many power boats in the water today, that a good fishing spot on a given day may see as many as fifty boats clustered together catching fish. Local fishermen call this phenomenon “combat fishing.” Our society is much more prosperous today than in 1977, and this is reflected in the recreational fishing and the charter boat business in Hancock County and Pass Christian.

Fishermen understand mother nature and know when the tides, currents, moon cycles, time of day, and/or wind patterns are either good or not for fishing. The parking lot at the recently built Bayou LaCroix landing is either empty or full, depending on the day. By instinct, or by word of mouth, the fishermen of Hancock County know when to launch their boats to fish for reds and specks, or when to stay home.

and emotionally scarring for them to endure that and also terrifying for those who have survived a mass shooting.
Then we hear the stories about how children get access to the unsecured firearms in the home and either kill or maim themselves or someone else.
First off, for something so preventable, it’s very, very tragic that the weapons were made so accessible to the children.
Second, what I don’t understand is why more parents aren’t held criminally responsible when this happens. It’s treated like some great tragedy rather than what it more resembles, neglect.
I mean, for one example, parents are prosecuted for leaving their children to die in locked vehicles, why isn’t that same energy used in the other cases with the firearms?
There are common sense laws that could help reduce the number of children who are slaughtered in America’s schools, but that would take some integrity and backbone from our elected leaders and for a good portion of the country to stop living in fear about their guns being taken away.
Sure, call me names and all that, but if it’s wrong to hate seeing innocent children and people gunned down and want something done about it, then I don’t want to be right.

Celebration of life for Dwayne “Double D”
Christopher Bremer
12/15/1973 to 04/02/2023

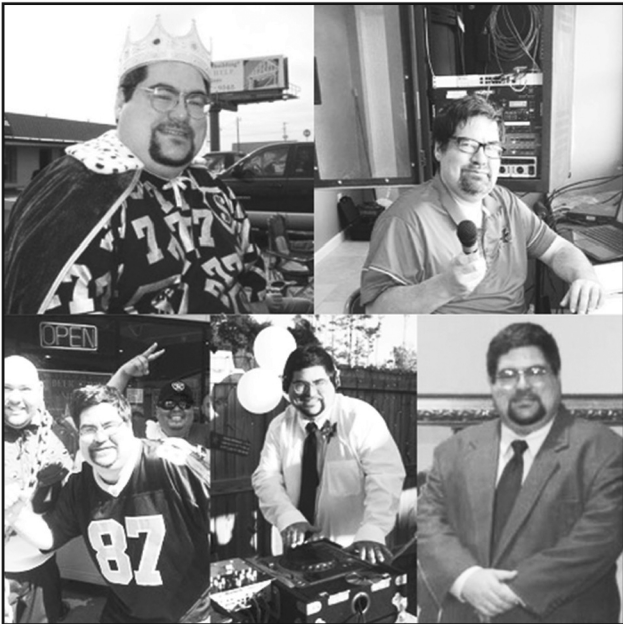

“He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death shall be no more, neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain anymore, for the former things have passed away.” Revelations 21:4

Local influential political, crime, and sports journalist Dwayne Christopher Bremer, 49, entered eternal rest at his Bay St. Louis home on Sunday, April 2, 2023 after his battle with congestive heart failure.

A man of many talents, Dwayne gave his all, especially to the community and people he loved. Dwayne’s willingness to help others was immensely priceless and his joyful spirit never allowed him to meet a stranger. Reflecting on his life and the many beautiful memories and laughs so many were blessed to have shared with him throughout the years will allow Dwayne’s memory to live on forever leaving all who knew him with a special unforgettable presence in their hearts and minds.

If Dwayne wasn’t spending most of his free time with immediate family or friends, you could bet on finding him somewhere volunteering on the local Hancock County Youth Sports scene. Dwayne’s undying love for any competitive game gave him the unique ability to liven up even the dimmest crowd, especially when welcoming folks to Kiln, MS for Friday night football! For decades, you could hear Dwayne’s familiar voice echoing throughout Hancock High School’s football stadium at every Friday night Hawk’s game. School staff, fans, and the players loved “Double D” for pumping up the crowd. He took great pride in not missing a single game. Win or lose it was perfectly clear Dwayne gained massive pleasure in showcasing the many talented players in Hancock County and thought of each of the kids as his very own and of course his original and A Hawk 1st down!. Dwayne also was an announcer for the Wildcats at Pearl River Community College.

Dwayne’s love for football didn’t stop there! For over 25 years, Streak Trivillion and Dwayne had been great friends and standing members of the Big Crew Fantasy Football League. “Most of us knew him as “Double D,” the lovable, joke cracking friend of everyone,” Trivillion said. “Double D and I have run a couple of fantasy football leagues which he and I along with other friends have enjoyed throughout the years. We are all going to miss him!”

Dwayne was also a long-time member of the Masonic Lodge in Bay St. Louis since February 2003.

Dwayne was no stranger to a strong work ethic. He wore many hats during his vibrant lifetime. Dwayne began serving the community in which he loved through communications in the late 1990’s by working as a Public Information and Corrections Officer at the Hancock County Sheriff’s Office, quickly rising through the ranks to become a Corrections Supervisor. Hancock County Sheriff Ricky Adam said, “Dwayne was an absolutely dedicated employee, husband, and a truly wonderful friend. He’ll be missed by all who had the honor of knowing him.”

Dwayne’s immense amount of passion for high school sports eventually led him to sign on full-time with the Seacoast Echo, also covering a variety of critical key issues, history, and featured stories along his way. Whether it be local government, sports, or crime, Dwayne never allowed limits to stop him from setting out in all that he desired to accomplish in life. His strong will and determination made Dwayne a force to be reckoned with in the journalism community, ultimately winning him a number of awards for his storytelling and photojournalism including the 2012 Bill Minor Award for the top investigative reporter in the state. Dwayne retired on December 19, 2022 from the Hancock County Sheriff’s Department due to his ongoing health battle.

Long-time friend and Seacoast Echo General Manager Geoff Belcher perhaps said it best when he said, “Dwayne was a shining star whose light dimmed too soon, leaving life a little darker for those he left behind.

While career driven, Dwayne’s greatest love and legacy on this earth was his wife Mary Ann Schwartz Bremer and their precious family. Dwayne has always credited Mary Ann as being the aspiration of his life keeping him motivated to achieve every accomplishment he set for himself. With her push forward, Dwayne’s life is a true testament of no matter what you are going through you can always accomplish what you put your mind to. Dwayne’s presence and light on this earth will truly be missed by all who he encountered.

Dwayne was preceded in death by grandparents Thelma Kurtz and Gillis E. Guidry, father; Daniel Charles Bremer Sr. and Nephew; Daniel Charles Bremer III.

Dwayne is survived by wife Mary Ann Schwartz Bremer, step-children Christopher Alan Schwartz, Savannah Marie Barbetta (Trey Island) and Brett Anthony Barbetta. Grandchildren Christiana Niece Schwartz, Christopher Alan Schwartz Jr. Ethan William Island and Ayden Maddox Island and god-child Younger Wingerter, mother Adrienne Rose Guidry Bremer, brother Daniel Charles Bremer Jr., sister-in-law Erica Denise Schwartz and longtime friend Regina Radford and many others.

Visitation will be held on Wednesday, April 5th from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis. Services will begin at 10 a.m. on Thursday, April 6th at Edmond Fahey with a procession to follow at noon to Waveland Cemetery for burial.

Dwayne’s true loves and blessings besides his family were his loving dog Huck, football, and the many friendships he made throughout his life. Please feel free to dress casually or wear your favorite football jersey.

for always wearing his Hawaiian shirts to every Chamber After Hours, often accompanied by his good friends Ames Kergosien and the late Frank Hille. When he retired from the Echo, the Hancock Chamber presented Cuevas with a Lifetime Membership.

Established by Chet LeBlanc, the Bay St. Louis Heritage Star is a tribute to Cuevas’ contributions to the community and to the field of journalism. It is a symbol

Justice

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

Recently a friend and fellow member of the clergy gave me a book which has caused some deep-thinking regarding justice in our world. The book is entitled, Acting In The Wake. It was written by Professor Walter Brueggemann, who is one of our leading writers and thinkers in the field of biblical theology. The book is about praying for justice, and it contains numerous examples of prayers appropriate for the seasons of the church year.

Praying for justice is a radical activity. It often means praying for outcomes which may be contrary to our own personal and economic interests. The God of the Judeo-Christian faith is a God who sides with the hurting, struggling, and poor of the society.

Looking back on the history of our own country, we can easily see that much of the change in social and economic areas has come about against the wishes of much of the established cultural attitudes which were in place at the time. As Brueggemann points out, even the Lord's Prayer as found in the Gospel is an act of defiant expectation and hope in the midst of a community whose standards are substantially different from the tone and content of the petition from the lips of Jesus.

Prayers for justice also call for honesty and personal self-reflection in the face of challenging loss and spiritual crisis. One week after the attack on The World Trade Center in September, 2001, Brueggemann wrote a prayer which acknowledged that sometimes faith is almost out of reach.

He says that sometimes the world spins beyond our wisdom and nearly beyond our faith. But even in such times and situations despair does not have to be the final word. Even when God seems hidden from us, that eternal presence remains a reality, and if we look for it, we can find it.

The problem, of course, is our own human expectations. We have often been culturally conditioned to think of God as a holy Santa Claus or a casino slot machine. We have been led to believe that people get what they deserve, and that if we work hard enough, do the right things, meet social and communal expectations, then our lives will turn out well. If we perform outside the norms established by the community and things go badly it is our own fault. This kind of simplistic thinking, or something akin to it is the foundational theology of many people. It is also the reason that so many of our young and more thoughtful citizens turn aside from organized religion.

Faith and theology require work, reflection, study, and practice. Of course, those are the same things that are required for any kind of meaning in life. Love, justice, trust, and grace are all part of the package that we call life. Some of us call it God. Whatever it may be called, may it enrich the lives of all who embrace it, and in the words of the prophet, "may justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like a mighty stream".

Hancock gets nearly $2M in GOMESA funding

ECHO STAFF

More than $51.8 million in funding is heading to Mississippi’s three coastal counties for coastal conservation, restoration, and hazard mitigation activities, including nearly $2 million for Hancock County projects.

The funding represents Mississippi’s share of revenues generated through the Gulf of Mexico Energy Security Act (GOMESA). Mississippi will receive $41,470,571 in funding, with another $4,321,386 for Jackson County, $4,082,132 for Harrison County, and $1,964,124 for Hancock County.
“As we know, Mississippi is no stranger to natural disasters. GOMESA revenues do much to not only shore up our coast with hurricane protection programs, but it also supports infrastructure, coastal conservation and restoration projects,” said Sen. Cindy Hyde-Smith, who serves on the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee. “I will continue to fight for offshore oil and gas production to ensure Mississippi can reap the deserved benefits of this revenue-sharing program.”

Mississippi Issues Call for Restoration Project Idea for 2023 Funding Consideration

SEA COAST ECHO

Governor Tate Reeves and MDEQ Executive Director Chris Wells are issuing a joint call for Mississippi Restoration project ideas. The Governor’s Gulf Coast Advisory Committee will soon begin the process of reviewing projects and selecting those they will recommend to the Governor for implementation. Those projects chosen by the Governor will be announced later this year.

The Resources and Ecosystems Sustainability, Tourist Opportunities, and Revived Economies of the Gulf Coast States Act of 2012 (RESTORE Act) established a Trust Fund for 80% of all administrative and civil penalties related to the Deepwater Horizon spill to the Gulf Coast Restoration Trust fund. Money from this fund is used to pay for eligible restoration programs, projects, and activities.

Two of the programs are the Direct Component (Bucket 1), administered by the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the Spill Impact Component-Gulf RESTORE Program (Bucket 3), administered by the Gulf Coast Ecosystem Restoration Council. These components required Mississippi, through the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality, to prepare a Multi-year Implementation Plan (MIP, Bucket 1, 2016) and a State Expenditure Plan (SEP, Bucket 3, 2017) describing each activity, project or program for which

The U.S. Department of the Interior heads the GOMESA revenue-sharing program that provides funding to Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, and Texas based on qualified offshore oil and gas leasing revenues. The Interior Department distributed more than $353 million in revenue-sharing receipts to the four states in 2022.

“Oil and gas production in the Gulf of Mexico not only boosts American energy independence but also helps support important investments along the Gulf Coast,” Sen. Roger Wicker said. “I will continue supporting efforts to improve the program and expand American energy production.”

According to the Interior Department, more than $1.65 billion has been distributed to the four coastal states since GOMESA was enacted.

“Domestic energy production is a critical part of both our national security and Mississippi’s coastal resilience,” Congressman Mike Ezell said.

The law also directs a portion of revenue to the Land and Water Conservation Fund.

Mississippi seeks funding. These plans are periodically amended. In preparation of the upcoming amendments for both plans, submissions to the project portal are being requested for both new restoration project ideas or updates to previously submitted ideas.

“The project portal is always available for submissions,” said Chris Wells, MDEQ Executive Director. “We appreciate all engagement in this process and look forward to seeing each idea and later implementing those which are selected.”

Anyone interested in submitting a project can do so via the Mississippi Restoration Project Portal [r20.rs6.net]. The site also includes a Mississippi Restoration Project Information Sheet which includes guidelines for completion. Questions about project portal idea submissions may be emailed to: restore.portal@mdeq.ms.gov.

*Funding for all projects included on the amended MIP is subject to approval by the U.S. Department of the Treasury. Inclusion of a project in the amended MIP does not guarantee funding.

* Funding for all projects included on the amended SEP is subject to approval by the Gulf Coast Ecosystem Restoration Council. Inclusion of a project in the amended SEP does not guarantee funding.

Rocks sweep, Bay & Hancock get division wins; Lady Tigers & Lady Hawks get victories

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The high school baseball and softball seasons are hitting the final stretch of the division races. With just two weeks left in the division schedule, teams are rallying to set up for the postseason.

Baseball

The Bay High Tigers split a Division 8-4A series with the Moss Point Tigers last week falling to moss point at home 5-4 and repaying the favor winning 11-0 on the road Friday evening. Bay High jumped out on Moss Point last Tuesday 3-0 in the bottom of the first inning when Walker Seymour launched a three-run home run. Moss Point tied the game up 3-3 when they plated three runs in the fourth inning. Moss Point added two more runs in the top of the sixth inning to go up 5-3.

Bay High scratched a run across the plate to make the score 5-4 heading into the final inning.

Bay High (7-12, 2-2) juiced the bases with one out in the bottom of the seventh but could not plate a run.

Bay High head coach BJ Corr commented, “We did not execute tonight. Throughout the game, we left nine runners stranded on the bases. To beat teams, we cannot leave runners on base. We have to get them across the plate.”

Bay High went to Moss Point on Friday and invoked the mercy rule on Moss Point 11-0 to even their division record. Walker Seymour added two doubles and four RBI in the game.

The Hancock Hawks (6-11, 1-2) tangled with Harrison Central last week and picked a win over the Red Rebels. On Tuesday, the Hawks went up 1-0 in the bottom of the third inning when Jude Ulrich singled to center-field and later scored on Peyton DeWitt’s ground-er. Max Garrett also hit a double in the inning.

In the bottom of the fifth inning, Tanner Laderner smacked a solo home run to push the Hawks’ lead to 2-0. Harrison Central scored a run in the sixth and two runs in the seventh inning to go up 3-2. The Hawks were not able to cross the plate in their final at bat.

Hancock head coach Anthony DeWitt stated, “I was proud of how the players gave us a chance to get the win in the seventh inning. We just have to keep putting ourselves in a position to win the game.”

The Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws swept a Division 8-3A series with Jefferson Davis County last week winning 18-7 and 17-0. In the first game, the Rocks got a grand slam from Chesley Rhodes along with two doubles and 3 RBI from Wiley Mossy. Seth Farni had two doubles and Hugh LeMasters also had a double. Others getting hits were Hayes Henry, Parker Saucier, Hill Gainey, and Brady Wallis.

In the second game, the Rocks jumped out to an 8-0 lead in the first inning, added four more in the second inning, and five in the third inning. Jeremy Mares and Farni both hit 3-run home runs in the game. Others getting hits in the game included a 2-run single by Kyle Stegall and Henry, two doubles by Rhodes, a double by Saucier, and a single by Gainey. SSC head coach Brad Corley commented, “We stuck to our game plan. We stayed true to middle of the plate and things just went from there.”

jumped out to a 6-0 lead by the fifth inning over Biloxi before the Lady Indians chipped away at the lead. A couple of throwing errors allowed runners to score in the sixth inning. The Lady Indians tied the game at 6-6 in the top of the seventh. Hancock was able to score the go-ahead run in the seventh on a throwing error by Biloxi.

Abigail Carver led the Lady Hawks with three hits followed by Chaley Peterson with two hits, and Cambria Necaise with a hit.

Hancock head coach Joe Rankin stated, “We played well throughout the game but had a stretch where we allowed some runs on some mistakes we made. We qualified for the playoffs with this win but we need to focus and finish the season strong for a solid seed heading into the playoffs.”

The Bay High Lady Tigers beat Stone 14-4 and St. Patrick 9-2 last week and dropped a game with Greene County 12-3. On Thursday, Bay High defeated Stone 14-4. Gracey Adkins drove in four runs on a single and a home run. Madison Weems also hit a home run in the game. Emmalee Kirkpatrick, Mackenzie Graham, and Weems all had multiple hits for the Lady Tigers.

In the win over St. Patrick on Friday, Bea Buice was 3-for-3 at the plate while Delana Peters, Weems, Olivia Suddeth, and Graham all had multiple hits in the victory. Maddie Favre picked the win in both games on the mound for the Lady Tigers.

EASTER EGG HUNTS AND OTHER EGGCEPTIONAL TRADITIONS

Easter is celebrated in various ways. Traditional religious commemorations include Saturday evening Easter vigils and Sunday morning Resurrection masses. Parents may spend Easter weekend putting the finishing touches on Easter Bunny baskets, and many families favor a combination of traditions.

Since religious as well as secular imagery and traditions have melded to form the Easter most individuals recognize today, a mix of customs may be part of your Easter festivities. Among them will be colored eggs, egg hunts and possibly even egg rolls. Just how was the Easter egg tradition hatched?

Pre-Christian societies

Before Christianity was as widespread as it is in modern times, many societies associated eggs with spring and new life. Many birds and animals lay eggs early in spring, and these eggs tend to hatch upon the arrival of the warm weather, budding flowers and buzzing insects.

Ancient Persians are believed to have painted eggs for Nowrooz, their new year celebration that would fall on the spring equinox each year.

Eggs also have been part of Passover celebrations. A hard-boiled egg dipped in salt water is served at a Passover seder, symbolizing both new life away from oppression and the Passover sacrifice at the Temple in Jerusalem, according to Chabad.org.

Lent, Christianity and eggs

In medieval times, eating eggs was forbidden during Lent, when both dairy and meat were avoided. To reduce waste, eggs laid during Lent were boiled or preserved in some way.

The fast ended on Easter Sunday, and eggs became, once again, important and nutritious staples — especially for poor families that couldn't afford much meat. Eggs also were given to the church by medieval English villagers and also to the lords of the manor. Royals eventually got in on the act, and decorated eggs were distributed to the household in a tradition that was one of the earliest to include eggs.

Egg hunts and more

Some historians suggest that egg hunts can be traced back to German Protestant reformer Martin Luther, who organized egg hunts for his congregation. The men would hide the eggs for the women and children to find. This symbolized the story of Christ's resurrection, when the tomb was discovered by women. The eggs also represented Jesus' new life and his emergence from the tomb.

Egg hunts are not the only egg-related games that were hatched for Easter celebrations. According to the website Learn Religions, some European children go from house to house begging for Easter eggs, like children may ask for treats on Halloween. The custom is called "pace-egging," a term derived from the old word for Easter, "Pasch." Egg rolls also are symbolic of rolling away the stone from Christ's tomb. Various countries have their own rules on egg rolls. In Germany, for example, children roll their eggs down a track made from sticks.

Easter eggs are an integral symbol of the holiday that hold both secular and religious meaning.

8 TIPS FOR DYEING EASTER EGGS

Coloring eggs is a beloved Easter tradition. Eggs long have been symbols of fertility and rebirth, making them fitting icons for spring.

One story links eggs to Easter as well. According to some religious scholars, Mary Magdalene, the woman who was the first person to see Jesus Christ after His resurrection, was holding a plain egg in her hand while waiting for the emperor to share the good news. The emperor then told her that Jesus' resurrection was as improbable as that egg suddenly blushing. The egg then turned red.

Dyeing eggs is an entertaining activity, but one that also may have some religious significance. Many families will color eggs this Easter, and these guidelines can make the process go smoothly.

- Wait until just before coloring to hard-boil eggs. Good Housekeeping recommends boiling eggs for 11 minutes for a hard boil. Do not chill the eggs afterward; warm eggs absorb color more effectively for more vivid results.
- Egg dye can stain furniture, clothing or tablecloths. Therefore, dress in clothing that you're not worried about staining. Also, cover work surfaces with an old tablecloth and newspapers to soak up any spills.

- Make a drying rack to ensure that eggs will dry evenly. This can be a rimmed cookie sheet lined with layers of paper towels to absorb any excess dye that runs off the eggs. Or push pins into thick foam board and place the eggs on top to allow air to circulate.
- Consider using glass bowls or ceramic mugs to house the colored dye solutions. These vessels are more sturdy than plastic cups, and less likely to be overturned by eager young hands.
- Scissor-style tongs are ideal tools for retrieving eggs from the dye. Eggs tend to slide off of the spoons or wire rings provided in kits, leading to splashing and kids dunking their fingers in to grab eggs.

- Stir dyeing cups often to guarantee consistent color.
- Use electrical tape to make patterns on Easter eggs. Dip the eggs and let dry. Afterwards, remove the tape to reveal the designs.
- If food coloring-based dyes seem too messy, use watercolor paint sets and allow everyone to get creative.

While some people may want to use Easter eggs for recipes later on, it may be safer to boil up a fresh batch of eggs for that purpose, even if it seems wasteful. According to Emily Rubin, RD, LDN of the Thomas Jefferson University Division of Gastroenterology and Hepatology, "hard-boiled eggs should be refrigerated within two hours of cooking and discarded if left out for more than two hours at room temperature." Chances are it may take two hours or more for children to find hard-boiled eggs hidden by the Easter bunny.
